

Support for families

Should you feel that you and your family require support during this time, the following services can provide you with practical, non-judgmental information, advice, confidential peer support and counselling.

AFP

Australian
Centre to Counter
Child Exploitation

Support for families

Child Wise offers information, support, counselling and advice from trained counsellors to help people deal with concerns relating to child sexual abuse and exploitation.

If you have experienced child abuse in an institutional context you can contact the Child Wise Helpline.

Call 1800 99 10 99 (9am-5pm M-S)
Visit childwise.org.au

The Salvation Army assists families experiencing a sudden crisis in need of financial assistance (food, travel, water, phone, rates, clothing, etc).

Call 1300 371 288 (9am-5pm AEST M-F)
Visit salvationarmy.org.au

Lifeline provides a telephone and online service for anyone who is experiencing a personal crisis, contemplating suicide or caring for someone in crisis.

Call 13 11 14 (Operates 24/7)
Visit lifeline.org.au

1800Respect. Dial for sexual assault, domestic and family violence counselling, information and referrals.

Call 1800 737 732 (Operates 24/7)
Visit 1800respect.org.au

Beyond Blue provides a confidential phone or online service offering support and counselling by trained mental health professionals.

Call 1300 22 4636 (Operates 24/7)
Visit beyondblue.org.au/getsupport

Blue Knot Helpline and Redress Support Service provides specialist trauma counselling, support, information and referrals to adults who have experienced childhood trauma.

Call 1300 657 380 (9am-5pm AEST M-S)
Visit blueknot.org.au/helpline

Support for children and young people

Kids Helpline offers a free, confidential telephone and online counselling service for young people aged 5-25 years.

Call 1800 55 1800 (Operates 24/7)
Visit kidshelpline.com.au

Bravehearts offers a free telephone service providing information, counselling and support to those affected by child sexual abuse.

Call 1800 272 831 (8:30am-4:30pm AEST M-F)
Visit bravehearts.org.au

Australian Childhood Foundation provides support to children and families affected by abuse, family violence and neglect and offers counselling, therapeutic care, research activities and parenting education.

Call 1300 381 581
Visit childhood.org.au

headspace provides free, confidential telephone or online mental health support to 12-25 year olds or their families. Visit the website to find a headspace centre in your territory.

Call 1800 650 890
Visit headspace.org.au

Reachout is an online service that provides information, support and resources about mental health issues for young people and their parents.

Visit au.reachout.com

Learn more

If you are concerned about your child's mental health or behaviour, speak to your GP. Your GP can provide you with an appropriate counselling referral or further information on any of the above services and more.

Support in your state

Department for Education, Children and Young People

Offers a range of services and support for children, young people and their families.

Call 1300 135 513
Visit decyp.tas.gov.au

Mental Health Services Helpline

Call 1800 332 388

Child Safety Service Advice and Referral Line

Is a service offering advice if you have concerns about the safety or welfare of a child.

Call 1800 000 123
Visit decyp.tas.gov.au

Parentline Tasmania

Is a service offering information and support to parents in Tasmania.

Call 1300 808 178 (Operates 24/7)
Visit parentline.com.au

Please consult your General Practitioner (GP) for further information and to ask for referrals if required.

If life is in danger or a person is highly distressed, feeling unsafe and you think they are a risk to themselves, dial 000 for immediate assistance.

accce.gov.au

Please note, neither the Australian Federal Police nor the Australian Centre to Counter Child Exploitation recommends or endorses any of the listed services. This information is provided should you feel you require assistance or support.